One of the greatest wilderness areas in the world, the Serengeti supports a magnificent diversity and abundance of animals, from the Big Five - lion, leopard, elephant, buffalo and black rhino (although these are rarely spotted) - to giraffe, Grant's gazelle, impala, kongoni, topi and eland. The Serengeti is famous for its predators: you can expect excellent lion and cheetah sightings (and exciting lion kills), and leopards are also regularly spotted.

In the Serengeti, you will be most likely to spot a leopard resting on a tree branch. The large branches of the sausage tree are their favourite spot. So never forget to look up: a leopard might be enjoying his lunch high up in a tree, so lions and other predators don't bother him.

Wildlife in Serengeti National Park - Tanzania

Kenya's Masai Mara and Tanzania's Serengeti have terrific densities of lions. The Mara Conservancies are particularly good for action because you can night drive and go off road. Serengeti is great for the classic poses on rock outcrops (kopjes).
